SPONSORSHIP & EXHIBITION PROSPECTUS

Language Teaching and Learning in a Globalized World

Organised by Invitation

With great pleasure we invite the community of language teachers, researchers and applied linguists to Dubai, UAE to participate in the 1st International Conference and Exhibition of Applied Linguistics and Language Teaching.

The Program Committee is assembling an exciting and stimulating conference program. The conference will showcase some of the world leaders in the field of applied linguistics and language teaching and it will provide a perfect platform for language researchers and practitioners alike.

Our theme Language Teaching and Learning in a Globalized World highlights and recognizes the role of applied linguistics and language teaching in shaping the ways in which language learners interact within a globalized setting.

Background:

This conference is the biggest event in language teaching and applied linguistics in the region, bringing together more than 1,500 researchers and practitioners from all related subject areas over three days. ALLT 2018 is a significant event, attracting both national and international delegates, whilst also featuring globally recognized speakers.

We have a vision for the 2018 forum to facilitate discussion in a creative environment; to deliver a dynamic program, through a series of highly interactive, stimulating and compelling innovations and this is where we believe our supporters can become involved.

The Vision:

We want you, as a sponsor, to play an integral part in developing the mood of the conference, as part of the design to inspire the imaginative and scholarly minds of the delegates.

We are approaching leaders in corporate business, in government, communications, education and linguistics that can see the significance of this event and contribute creatively, intellectually and financially to its success. We seek to deliver a stimulating and creative three-day forum where our partners play an integral part in delivering an impactful learning environment and being able to deliver their key messages to the audience.

The Benefits:

The Conference aims to enhance the professional and knowledge levels of the teachers and applied linguists through achieving the following objectives:

- Exchange knowledge and experiences and discuss mechanisms of elevating the performance level of both applied linguistics and language teaching specialists.
- Inform the participants of the latest international publications in the fields of teaching and applied linguistics.
- Present latest modern technologies and leading practices of the fields of English teaching and Applied Linguistics.
- Highlight the importance of scientific research conducted by the applied linguists and enhance the overall performance of English teachers.
- Promote the culture of innovation and leadership in both fields.
- Recruit qualified personnel to work at educational institutions.
